Water

Testing

Now that spring is here it is time for folks with a private well to have their water tested. The RM office will give you a collection bottle and form. Please call before you go to pick them up as

 For starting seeds indoors, reuse household containers such as yogurt, margarine tubs, milk cartons and aluminium loaf pans. They should be 5 - 8 cm (2 - 3 inches) deep and have good drainage. Cardboard egg cartons however will hold enough

A Letter to the Citizens of Lorette:

The annual meeting for Lorette Community Complex is April 13 and a new slate of Board members will be required. The current board has worked very hard over the past few years to get the facility back to an acceptable standard for everyone to use. I believe we have attained this goal.

Of the existing Board only two members will be remaining, thus the need for new, smart, energetic persons to carry the torch. The hard work is done and all the facility needs now is a Board to make sure everything is staying on course.

Over the past year we have confirmed Ted Viskup's role as the Facility Manager and we have hired Sharon Roswell Gardiner to keep the books. She reports mainly to Ted and they both report to the Board of Directors. The facility can operate for many years with these two at the helm, BUT the purpose of the Board is to provide policy decisions and expand the programs and services available to the community.

If no one steps forward to serve on the board I will go to the RM to suggest the council set up an advisory committee to oversee the operations. Ted Viskup would be responsible for the facility and there will no extras like carnivals, family fun days etc.

If you or anyone you know would like to serve a term on the Board of Directors for CCLCC please let me know, I can be reached at 470-8626 or by email at jimh@mts.net. Remember that the people leaving the board have "done their time" and if the community wants their facility to thrive then someone else needs to step up to the plate and "do their time" for the community.

As the outgoing President I would like to thank everyone who has helped with both the big projects and the little ones. You know who you are and you can be proud of the work that has been done for your community

Thanks. Jim Hardy, President, CCLCC

Garage & Craft Sale

On Saturday May 1, 2004, from 10:00 – 4:00, College Lorette Collegiate in Lorette will be hosting a Garage and Craft Sale in their gymnasium. This event is being held to raise funds for their upcoming band trip to Alberta and they invite everyone to stop by the school and pick up some useful and "in-good-condition" items. Admission is free, refreshments will be available and babysitting will be offered (for a donation). The school is located at 1082 Dawson Road. See you there.
